Start- and endpoint

Kerkstraat 4, 6245 CB Eijsden,
Netherlands

Level of difficulty

Makkelijk

If you follow the course of the swirling river Maas from Eijsden, you will end up in the peaceful Eijsder Beemden nature reserve. Along the banks of the Meuse there is room for willow forests, pools where the pochards swim and the grebes nest and vast grasslands, speckled with purple snake look and yellow primrose. Here you will come face to face with herds of Konik horses and Galloway cattle. You can follow this walking route via the blue posts from Kerkstraat in Eijsden, where you can always park nearby. If you drink your coffee afterwards at cafe Aon &#39;t Bat, you get a fantastic view of the Maas.
