Limburg Cycling and Grimpeur have created various road cycling routes that take you over undiscovered hills and roads. This route leads straight through the Grensmaasvallei, a beautiful region in Limburg, which in terms of cycling fame, is somewhat overshadowed by Zuid-Limburg's Heuvelland region. The Grensmaasvallei is especially popular amongst cyclists because of its wonderful, gently rolling roads alongside water and farmland. But this region also has a more challenging side. You better make sure that your calves are well rested before you start, for this route of 64 km surely packs a punch! The route is packed with short explosive climbs that will make your legs burn.
