Welcome to beautiful South Limburg, especially in the municipalities of Brunssum and Heerlen. This route of Natuurmonumenten takes you through the beautiful area of the Brunssummerheide. Geological activities from the past have resulted in the Brunssummerheide developing into a versatile nature reserve where forests, heaths, streams, fens, agricultural land and sandy plains determine the landscape. The core of the heath is formed by the source area of the Roode Beek, where raised bog formation occurs. There are a few fens on both the heaths and in the woods. This route can be followed via the posts with the light green band.
