Walking route

→ 5.4 km

Start- and endpoint

Salvatorplein 1, 6114 HE
Susteren, Netherlands

Level of difficulty

Heel makkelijk

On your detour through the south of Susteren you will become acquainted with the Sint-Amelberga basilica. This interesting church is still the scene of a shrine every seven years and keeps culturally valuable objects in its Treasury, which can be visited by appointment. You will also pass through the phenomenal nature reserve of the IJzerenbos, where seas of wood anemones turn white in the spring, the Red Beek finds its way and with a little luck you will encounter the special tree frogs. Moreover, there is a nice coffee house in this forest area where you can also order a delicious slice of Limburgse vlaai. This walking route is intrigued by the knot loop system.
