West of the picturesque village of Hulsberg is the even smaller town of Arensgenhout, which you should definitely not overlook. You will both get to know these two charming places if you follow this walking route via the blue posts.

You can park in the center of Hulsberg, where you can also drink a nice cup of coffee. Pay particular attention to the beautiful church of H. Clemens and the Archaeological Rest Point Steenland, where a work of art still shows the point where an old Roman villa was excavated in 2008. Those Romans knew where it was beautiful!
