In the south of Heerlen, secluded from the lively city bustle, you will find the green outskirts of Imstenrade and Benzenrade. You can explore this surprising area on the He1 walking route. The dense Imstenraderbos with its tall, old beech trees and lime flora is the ideal habitat for owls, birds of prey and bats. You can park at the cozy café Het Koffiehuuske. From there, follow the road up, walk past the chapel on the left and follow the posts with the red band from the information board.
