This walking route starts from the small hamlet of Oud-Lemiers, just against the border of Germany. It then takes you towards the beautiful hamlet of Holset.

In this hiking area you get a beautiful view of the Snow Mountain (Schneeberg), which owes its name to the limestone soil that gives the mountain a white color in summer.

Along the way you will pass the eighteenth-century castle Lemiers, which has a special archaeological and art-historical value. There are plenty of catering establishments and parking facilities in the vicinity of Lemiers and Holset. Follow the blue posts for this walking route.
