Walking in the area between Gulp and Geul is a must during a visit to South Limburg. The nature reserve around Slenaken has beautiful views, steep slopes and different types of vegetation. For example, during this walking route you will visit the Lower Forest, where you will encounter different wild plants in every season. You also cross the border to Belgium, where fields and meadows will greet you from the plateau. You will be surprised by the scenery at whatever point in the route you are.

You can start at the Smockelaer in Heijenrath where you can also park easily. The blue posts take you through this walk.
