The poems of the poet Jack Jacobs are wonderful to read at home, but they come into their own even better in the environment that inspired the author: the beautiful area of the Maasvallei River Park south of Elsloo.

On the Poems Route you will come across Jacobs' poems artfully interwoven at appropriate places in the tour. This walking route also shows you the romantic English landscape park of Elsloo Castle.

At this castle, but also at eatery Auwt Aelse, you can easily park your car and drink your coffee in the most special setting. Download the route description and follow the red posts (the sloping top of which indicates the walking direction).
