On top of a hill, with a panoramic view of the South Limburg five-star landscape, lies the mountain village of Vijlen: the starting point of this surprising walking route. If you hear the name of Sint Martinus, then you are in the right place: both the delightful winery and one of the highest churches in the Netherlands bear his name, and you will encounter both on this route. Park your car on Pastorijweg and follow the green posts through this green landscape.
