Mechelen, Netherlands

Level of difficulty
Moeilijk

All the way to the west of the picturesque village of Mechelen is the Commandeursmolen, a watermill that is still in full use to this day. If you cross the famous stream De Geul here, you will arrive at the wonderful walking route Mechelen Wi21.

The yellow posts take you to the quiet hamlets of Bissen, Dal and Höfke over rural paths between the fields and the groves.

You can easily park in Mechelen and once back in the center you can drink a delicious Limburg specialty beer on the terrace of café In de Kroeën.
