Heerlen is the emerging city of South Limburg. With the Five Squares, the lively street art in the center, the vibrant events and the versatile range of shops, this modern city is completely up to date. On the other hand, Heerlen also remains faithful to its past, which is clearly visible in the Roman Thermal Baths Museum, the characteristic St. Pancratius Church and the many nods to the mining past. You can park easily at the Nieuw-Eijckholt car park in Heerlen, but the train also takes you right into the heart of Heerlen. If you want to enjoy your drink in the midst of the friendly residents of Heerlen, you have a wide choice of the cozy terraces of the Pancratiusplein.
