This walking route takes you on a beautiful trip through the Savelsbos. This narrow forest between Sint Geertruid and Rijckholt is full of proud, rustling deciduous trees and the slopes are steep and spectacular. Special for this forest is the prehistoric flint mine, hidden deep in a cave. Between the trees there is even room for breathtaking vistas with a unique view of the famous South Limburg hills. After your hike you can go to one of the terraces of the village. Parking is easy in Sint Geertruid; then you just have to follow the red posts.
