This walking route takes you right through the long vast Vijlenerbos. Along the way you will be amazed by the beautiful views over the Geul valley. The landscape is so beautiful that you hardly believe that you are in the Netherlands. You will walk past the flint deposit, a geological treasure that was formed about 70 million years ago. You can also see the Limburg grafts: slopes with a terrace structure, of which no one knows exactly how they originated. In nearby Camerig you will find the nationally famous ice cream parlor Wingbergerhoeve. You can easily park at restaurant Buitenlust or forest café Het Hijgend Hert. The route can be followed via the wooden SBB posts with a blue head.
