Just across the border at Maastricht, between the Maas and the Albert Canal, lies a beautiful, wetland and green area. Sloping forests grow densely and shady against the hills, the stream the Jeker meanders through the valley and the picturesque village of Kanne is a surprising change from the unspoilt environment. It is easy to park in Kanne. From the town with its imposing bridge, follow the orange posts to Château Neercanne, a majestic castle against a hill crossed by caves. Here you can drink your cup of coffee in a very special atmosphere.
