On this 6-kilometre-long cycle route you pass five hamlets in the civil parish of Nuth. It leads you over hills and through valleys, never too tough though, as slopes alternate with flat stretches. You cycle, amongst others, through the hamlet of Terstraten, past former old farms, mansions and half-timbered houses, past road cross and chapel, holloways, castle farms and water mills. You can stop off for a relaxing break at the sign of 'In den Haversack'. Please note: this route is not signposted. However, you can find a separate route description by clicking on 'download'. You can park and start on the market square (Markt) in Nuth.
