The cross-border Rood Ma4 route takes you from Eijsden to the other side of the Maas.

A look back shows you the marina and the castle of Eijsden; a look ahead shows you the pristine forests and the rough slopes of Belgium. Along the Albert Canal with its striking bridge, this walking route leads you to the village of Kanne, at the foot of the densely wooded hill. You can also enjoy a cup of coffee in this place.

You can follow this surprising walking route on the other side of the border river Maas via the posts with the red triangles on white plates. Please note: the ferry at Eijsden does not operate during the winter period.
